Some thoughts for November

November comes in with the celebration of All Saints when we remember those whose Christian faith has been an example to us all. However, although I know of several people who have birthdays this month and have parties or some other form of celebration, November always seems a very sad time. The clocks have gone back, the nights are longer with the curtains drawn, trees have lost their leaves and it is getting colder.

On the eleventh of November our country marks the death of so many in wars. Starting with the First World War but also remembering all those who were killed or maimed in wars which have followed. This year the church services will be on Sunday the fourteenth. However, on the following Sunday we will be marking the end of the Jesus story when we will celebrate Christ reigning in majesty in Heaven as Christ the King.

The cold dark days are coming but be of good courage as our Saviour has conquered death and invites all who believe in him to share in his banquet. From darkness into light, from death to eternal life with our Friend, Lord and Redeemer.
Yours in His name Rev Anne Cox

The Circuit Sponsored Walk

I am pleased to tell you the total raised (so far) is £1,007.50. It was wonderful for everyone to enjoy God's world on the day, and thanks are offered to everyone who, organised the walk, the hospitality, to those who walked on the day or gave sponsor money.
